

Is mobile fiber optic cable fast

Overview

Right now, fiber internet has the fastest plans and symmetrical speeds, but that's probably going to change in the next several years as cable internet incorporates new technology enabling multi-gig symmetrical speeds. Plus, it's more widely available than fiber. This guide compares fiber-optic cable and traditional copper internet cable (coaxial cable) across key factors: technology, speed, reliability, and cost in 2025. Two types of broadband you may have heard of are Hybrid Fiber-Coax (HFC) and Fiber-to-the-Home (FTTH). Both use fiber optic cables to. Light travels faster and degrades much slower than electricity, giving fiber a massive physical advantage over legacy copper networks. Speed is often the primary concern for consumers shopping for a new internet plan. Fiber commonly offers download speeds starting from 250 Mbps all the way up to 10 Gbps, with 1 Gbps plans readily available.
