

Notification Cable TV broken unable to connect to the internet

Overview

Here are some of the most common reasons your smart TV Ethernet may not be working: The Ethernet cable is damaged or loose. Your internet connection would be the first cause; if the TV can't reliably maintain it for a long enough period of. This issue is more common than you think, and it's not necessarily a problem with your TV or the network cable itself. In this article, we'll dive deep into the possible causes of this error and provide you with practical solutions to get your TV back online. It could be due to network issues, such as a weak Wi-Fi signal or incorrect network settings on the TV. Regardless of your smart TV model, here are some simple, immediate actions to take when your TV is not connecting to WiFi: Unplug your router/modem for at least 1. Reporting back as promised I am cautiously optimistic the TV Network Connected Notification problem has been solved without I should add switching off the notifications in the Smart Things App (I misunderstood where the notifications settings were as no doubt you have realised from my earlier post).
